

Hi everybody,

I am very happy to announce that the Colorado Springs City Council this week formally approved and adopted the Renew North Nevada Master Plan.

As project manager, I could not be prouder of this Plan that we all worked together to create. Through interviews, roundtable discussions, an online survey, four community workshops and an open house, almost 900 of you had a direct hand in guiding the Plan. I want to thank each of you for contributing your time, your concerns, and your ideas. Your commitment will result in making this important area of our city as vibrant as it can be.

I also want to thank members of the North Nevada Avenue Steering Committee who oversaw the planning and community involvement process and the NES consultant team who led the planning effort.

Because the City is committed to acting on this Plan, I promise you it will not become a “dust-collector-on-a-shelf” document. It will serve as a blueprint for action.

Once City Council has decided in the next few months whether to approve a zoning overlay for the area to encourage private investment in the area and help achieve the Master Plan goals, the hard work of making the Plan come to life can begin.

City staff will put together a detailed approach for implementing the Plan. We will also initiate a City/community discussion about the best way to address the many transportation needs and challenges in the North Nevada Avenue corridor.

But we won't do all of this in a vacuum. As project manager, I will stay in touch with you via email to let you know our progress and to continue to engage you as much as possible as we move ahead to Renew North Nevada Avenue!
